

THE MAKER CITY SUMMIT 2023

Hunt for local makers – solve the riddles and stop by the locations to stamp your card at The Maker City Summit 'stamp-it-yourself-location' within the business. Turn in your card at the Summit on Sunday morning, September 10th.

THREE stamps = ONE entry to the raffle, SIX stamps = TWO entries, etc.

ONE additional entry earned for each of the following activities:

- post on social and tag the business(es) as well as @themakercity with hashtag #themakercity and #themakercityscavengerhunt
- make a reel showing your full adventure, tag the business(es) as well as @themakercity with hashtag #themakercity and #themakercityscavengerhunt
- make a physical item showing your scavenger hunt adventure

There are four amazing prizes!

More details at themakercitysummit.org/extras

Must be present to win when tickets are drawn at the end of the Summit on Sunday, September 10th at 3pm.

SCAVENGER HUNT

"In downtown Knoxville, vibrant and bright,
A place where arts and culture take flight.
Supporting artists, diverse and bold,
This alliance's mission, a story to be told."

"In the Old City's historic embrace,
Where glass meets beer in a unique space.
Craft brews flow from experimental taps,
Glassware blown with artisanal wraps."

"On Union Ave, a treasure trove,
For folks to shop, and hearts to rove.
Ultra-soft tees, a cozy find,
the fancy and less fancy kind."

"On the 100 Block, an artist resides,
Her creativity, the city she guides.
A Knoxville native with talents grand,
Her studio awaits, a wonderland."

"For sustainable beauty, a haven you'll see,
Where care for the earth and animals agree.
In Downtown Knoxville, a spot so chic,
This Salon awaits with a warm mystique."

"On Jackson Ave, a gem so bright,
A retail space of pure delight.
Since 2010, its doors are wide,
Inviting artists' work to reside."

"In historic Regas Square, behold,
A culinary marketplace, stories untold.
Over 15,000 SF, it stands with grace,
Knoxville's first of its kind, a foodie's place."

"At noon when the sun is high,
A treat for your senses is nigh.
In a place where visitors gather with glee,
A blue feast for both eyes and ears, you'll see.
The center where Knoxville knowledge is shared,
A hub for travelers with a style that's paired."

"Close to the Bijou, a gem you'll find,
A store with gifts of every kind.
Candles' flicker and soap's sweet scent,
In this shop's embrace, creativity's meant.
Handmade wonders and artisanal grace,
A symphony of gifts in this vibrant space."

"On Gay Street's stretch, a libation's lair,
Where wine and spirits find their share.
A place to select your liquid desires.
A haven discerning taste can admire"

"Where strings hum and bows take flight,
A haven for musicians, day and night.
Tennessee's source, leading and true,
For fine violins' love, they've a clue.
Rentals, sales, repairs they know,
Crafting, creating, talents on show."

"In Market Square's core, a hub so bold,
Where innovation and dreams unfold.
For startups and visionaries, a guiding hand,
Where ideas flourish and ventures expand.
A gateway for entrepreneurs, shining light,
Resources aplenty, day and night."

"Where luxury meets art, a junction bright,
A nexus where creativity takes flight.
Hotels, World's Fair Park, and Dogwood Arts align,
In this colorful space, stories intertwine."

"Proudly celebrating the local brew,
A hub for people, for me and you.
With love for the city, a passion true,
For beer and camaraderie on Union Avenue."

"Since twenty eleven, their doors swung wide,
From Union Ave to journeys world-wide.
All ages find treasures, shelves abound,
Guided by booksellers, wisdom to be found."

"On Emory Place, a vintage retreat,
Where fashion's history and stories meet.
Age, gender, size, no barriers here,
Styles from the past, so wonderfully clear.
A welcoming space, where all are embraced,
To explore personal style, no need to haste."

"On Gay Street's path, a fragrant place,
A world of flavors, a delightful space.
Spices and teas, an aromatic blend,
Where culinary journeys never end."

"In the Old City's charm, a stop that's grand,
At the four-way junction, you'll understand.
A scotch selection, world's largest in sight,
Where connoisseurs and musicians gather,
day and night."

